Dedication

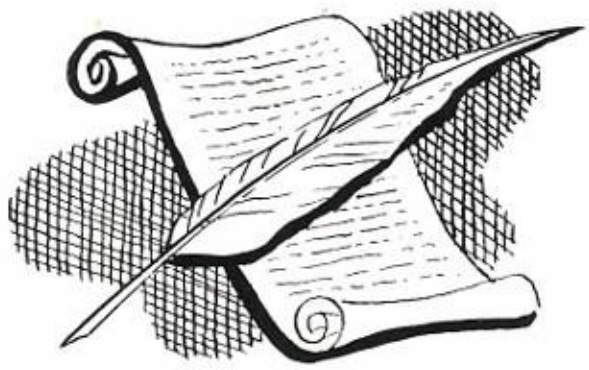
Of all the virtues which man may possess, the greatest single one is that of humility. For humility is the enemy of arrogance and is characteristic of the men whose lives are dedicated to service. This quality, perhaps more than any other of his fine qualities, distinguishes Mr. D. E. White, to whom we dedicate the 1962 Longhorn.

Superintendent's Message

Senior Class and Senior Sponsor,

Before this Yearbook, a product of your minds and hands, shall arrive, you will be finishing your high school work and looking toward graduation day. I wish to say that it has been a joy to work with each of you and to have had the privilege of knowing you intimately. As you leave the school you love so well and go out into a job or to further your education in College or Business Training, it is my hope that each of you become the kind of person that can be depended upon. We are living in a changing world, but honesty and dependability never change. Be honest. Be dependable. Be efficient in all you do and success will be yours. May God bless you is my prayer.

D. E. White, Superintendent



Principal's Message

To the Graduating Class of 1962:

I would like to take this opportunity to thank you for your efforts in producing one of our finest Yearbooks. All of the hours of hard work will soon be forgotten, and you will look back through this book with only pleasurable memories in the future.

As you go out into the world, I hope you have the best of luck in the vocation you choose. I will be proud of your successes, because I will always feel that we, here at Forestburg School, had a part in making you a successful citizen.

Sincerely,

Lester W. Boyd Jr.

Senior Class Prophecy

This is in May, 1982, and we take a look at what the members of the class of 1962 are doing. I left the town of Forestburg, which by the way is the Capitol of Texas. My first stop was in Bolivar, where I visited Peggy who is still trying to decide between four men. From there, I went on to Gainesville and came upon Kent and Tommy who are running a body shop and garage to repair their own cars. I traveled north to Oklahoma City where I encountered Vernon who was playing basketball for Oklahoma City University. From Oklahoma City, I went south to New Orleans where Elaine is running a nightclub and Pat is a singer and Shirley is a dancer. I traveled on to Baton Rouge where Ennis has taken over the singing and the Governor's job from Jimmy Davis. I came back into Texas and my first stop was in Beaumont where Elbert is keeping up the trend of corruption by being mayor. I went on to Houston and went to the largest department store where Mary and Jody are selling baby rattlers. On my way down the street, I met Eugene, who is running a Lonely Hearts Club. I came back to Azle and found Linda, who is still waiting on Skeeter to get out of the army, but he has decided that the army is not as rough as Linda. From the looks of the people, they will not be alive for my next visit in twenty years.

History

The Rhythm Band was first organized in 1959 by the first and second grade teacher, Claryce Merrett.

The first Rhythm Band consisted of eighteen members of the first and second grades. (Four third graders were in the original group.)

In 1960, the first four grades were combined, making a total of twenty-eight members, but it remains a project of only the first four grades.

In April of 1961, the group was presented on the television program, "Dateline", W. B. A. P. -TV in Fort Worth.

The children love the Rhythm Band, but they have found that it is more hard work than play. We feel that this is very beneficial to children, especially the more timid ones. Both the children and the teachers feel that the extra effort is well worth while.
